SHIPYARDS IDLE
GREAT BRITAIN
FACING TROUBLE

British ship workers in the Chitties who are engaged in repairing ships and repairing boats will today take an increase of 25 shillings a week.

British is faced with a strike of miners and sailors which could result in the ending of the war and disaster.

England is threatened with a similar situation owing to the demands of the men there for shorter hours.

British industrial disputes which may result in strikes are: The demand of the miners for ten to eight hours a day and gas for meal time; the demand of the station masters for recognition of their union; the demand of the Sheet metal engravers for a forty hour week; the demand of the South Wales coal miners for recognition; the recognition of their union; and the demand of the National Peasants for a forty-four hour week and a reduction of wages.

Another dispute which may culminate in a strike is that between the bakers and their employers.

MARCH IN BODY ON PLANT OF SWIFT & COMPANY IN WINNIPEG AND GET PROMISE.

By The Associated Press.

Winnipeg, Man., Jan. 27.—This afternoon a considerable mob of soldiers marched to the plant of Swift & Company with the showed intention of ejecting every man there suspected of being German or Austrian.

When the returned soldiers arrived at the plant, Major Gray and Brigadier Ketchen, commanding officer of this military district, were there before them. General Ketchen and W. R. Ingram, manager of the Swift & Company plant, met the soldiers at the entrance. General Ketchen asked veterans to give the employees a chance to adjust themselves to changed conditions.

Ingraham told the soldiers he would dismiss the "foreigners" employed at the plant, if necessary, to make positions for returned soldiers.

HOLD AMERICAN SAILORS TO MAN GERMAN VESSELS

No Sailor Discharged Who Has Not
Got a Job for Fear of Increasing Unemployment.

By The Associated Press.

Paris, Jan. 27.—American naval authorities here are doing everything possible to avoid adding to the number of unemployed in the United States by retaining in the service every able-bodied sailor who can be induced to remain. Instructions have been given to discharge no man who does not desire to leave and who has no prospect of employment.

A spokesman is expressed in naval circles that there will be a real shortage of sailors on this side of the Atlantic as a large number may be required to man the German merchant ships which the United States is to take over. This is the explanation given for the sudden change in orders to many men who were about to start for the United States, but were being held in French ports.

The naval commission is expressing its desire to have white M. Pichot complete the draft of instructions for the commission which will leave for the United States in a few days.

President Wilson, who is chairman of the committee on the League of Nations, joined his colleague, Colonel House, also a member of that committee, during the recent recess. Later in the day Lord Robert Cecil, British member of the committee, joined him in a further consideration of questions which the president and Colonel House had examined.

The naval commission also began to get under way. President Wilson met General Gouraud, president of the American Federation of Labor; James Duncan, John R. Alpine, and other members of the American labor delegation, and later Mr. Gompers and Edward N. Hurley, who are the American members of the labor commission, held their first conference.

The military commission on definition also has white M. Pichot completed the draft of instructions for the commission which will leave for the United States in a few days.

Henry White, the American delegate on the waterways commission, also established relations with his colleagues.

This real progress on all the main subjects is becoming apparent as the commissions are beginning to form detailed projects for presentation to the conference.

KEEPS PROMISE; ECONOMY RULES IN LEGISLATURE

chairs and grand jury batons, showed that a fixed idea of economy prevails in the House. The last named bill is still pending, but consideration in the reduction of expenses is indicated by the unwillingness of the House to act hastily upon a bill to consolidate the railway commission with the railroad commission. That measure, when brought up, was postponed in order that members might have more time to study the situation.

The adjournment to the House favors an investigation of the sugar trust. Impeachment by a majority of the House against sugar by Representative Captain of Marion County, may be taken as an indication that the Legislature is willing to spend money—if the necessary arises. The action of the Senate in voting to sit as a body in the House Park election, for a seat for the Twentieth senatorial district and its decision to summon witnesses before them, bears out the same thought.

In the Senate there has been also a disposition to expedite business. Committees of both houses are turning out work with usual promptness. Both appropriation committees are well to their work. The chairman of the Senate committee has expressed the determination that an idea of economy will rule him, but that is not to be taken to mean that he will be niggardly in appropriations. The House chairman is subject to the same rule, and both are investigating requests for increased appropriations.

By The Associated Press.

San Francisco, Calif., Jan. 27.—A strike of approximately 30,000 ship yard and other metal workers in the San Francisco Bay region because of differences over the Macey wage award is threatened on February 1, according to an announcement here today by H. A. Brotherton, United States Shipping Board special examiner. "If the men engage in any prolonged strike, the government will cancel the contracts under which they are employed and the ships will remain idle," Brotherton said. "The government will stand by the Macey award."
